Wow. Okay that was a very deep trance. i don't remember much. Just Domina taking me down and then up. Then all over again. That was at the beginning of the file to put me into a trance. i have no clue what Domina did during the time i was out of it. i woke rested and aroused. i listened to it 4 times in one evening and just don't know what happened. Oh well, it does say Brainwashing, Mind Control and Erotic Hypnosis. LOL So that must be what happened.

It is this chastity slave's opinion that the three Subliminized sessions are some of Domina's finest work. This despite my not being able to remember what happens, really. I just know that I love these files and am so hard and horny at the idea of my Domina programming my open, suggestible subconscious mind in ways that I cannot remember. It makes me feel so submissive and owned!

After listening to this file several times, i re-read the prior reviews and they are spot-on. This file is different, but in a good way. At first, i didn't think the induction style would work but it was a perfect setup for the subliminals. i have also been skeptical of subsonic subliminals, however while hard to describe, i can tell something is going on inside my mind during these peaceful, soothing periods. Very strange indeed. But very nice. And afterwards feeling great, more under Her control, and wanting to listen again and again. I promised my Domina that i would listen to the Subliminal files at least once per day for at least 30 days. However, it's gonna take longer than that to work through all 3 files because i don't want to leave the first one. i'm thinking things are going to change and a strong desire to serve this beautiful Woman is growing inside my mind. Thank You Domina for this wonderful file.

A most relaxing session, except for the frantic need to listen again and again!

i ähm, well i have no clue at all what just happened, if a good mind fuck means that you have no idea what your Owner did to you then this was the best mind fuck i ever listened to, i have not the slightest idea of what happened, only that i found myself unable to stop listening, i listened a bunch in a row and can't even tell why i did so, but in the end i know i can trust my Princess, i may never will understand what she did, but whatever it was it surely got me under her control even more ^-^

I trust my Domina and always accept what She has planned for my mind. This program is different from other recordings and after a sweet introduction I do not know what exactly happened. There are gaps in my memory when her whispers drip into my mind like the sound of distant droplets of water in an underground cave. I just lie there there in the dome of her hypnotic power and wait for the next drop to seep away in my subconscious without any trace to remember.

I don't know what Domina is doing to me with this file, and I don't care. It feels good just to listen to Her sweet voice and let go.

i only recall what happened in the beginning where i was put in hypnosis and woken up several times. Which is very effective by the way. But i'm not sure what happened after that.

I am completely unable to remember this session, therefore I can't offer any sort of review regarding the details. I do know that I was commanded to forget, and that I awoke feeling simply amazing. I feel like I should be listening again right now.

i have no idea exactly what Domina is doing to me in this session, but i'm more than happy that whatever She is doing for me should continue. So i will be listening again and again so i can give all control to my Domina.

As described above by Domina this is not an easy session to review given the difficulty to recall the specific details. What I do remember is the feeling of surrendering to Domina's voice and the calmness and serenity in my mind as I fell under her hypnotic spell. There are two periods in the session where Domina's voice is a mere whisper, barely audible, but during both periods I also felt Domina close to me as I floated ever deeper into a blissful trance. That feeling prevailed to the end of the session and although I cannot recall specific details when I awoke, the submissive feeling of being enslaved and owned by Domina was unmistakable. This feeling lasted for a while and I now have a strong compulsion to listen to the file again just to experience those feeling again. Domina has again compiled yet another masterpiece of progressive conditioning and its a session that will be in my daily playlist for the next few weeks. Brava Domina, You are truly the Mistress of Minds!

Joy and happiness is what i feel right now. Thinking only how to please my beloved Domina Shelle, my Owner. After each listening i did touch and caress my collar which flooded me with waves of happiness. i am not sure what She did during the session, i trust Her completely and embrace whatever She did to enhance my subconscious mind. Still not remembering i must ensure the changes are correctly so i have to listen again and again.

I felt so rested, and at peace after listing. All I remember is i'm not supposed to remember, but I do remember a dream ? I was walking down a street of an old empty town on a snowy blizzardy morning, I could hear a soft sweet voice in the distance, that sounded like the songs of birds as I turn between buildings and was walking into a park, but it was so dark and the snow was blowing so strong I could hardly see. All the while the soft sweet voice was so far away. but that's it. it was more like a vision than a dream.....
