It's the little things that seemingly go unnoticed sometimes. Tipping your Domina Shelle should never be one of those times. It is a perfect way to let he know you love and care for her as she works so hard for you. Feel good that you are making her life easier today.

A fun way to let Domina Shelle know that i am thinking about her and the control she has over me. There is hardly a time when i am not thinking about HER. All my love and devotion to YOU, Domina Shelle.

This is a wonderful way of letting Domina know that you are thinking of Her throughout the day. Domina is kind to allow her submissives to serve her in this way.

A small amount for my Domina but a reminder for me to whom i belong and who i want to make happy. Tuesday is a wonderful day for me, i can pleasure my Domina and it is also a pleasure for me! Too bad there is only one Tuesday every week.

i'm always thinking of my Domina. Always! And this is just a small way to show her when she's on my mind. She's an exceptional woman who will capture your attention...easily, effortlessly, and continuously. i'm hooked in the best of ways.

Tip Me Tuesday is a great way to show Domina that every week we are thinking of Her and are sacrificing in little ways to acknowledge this. As Domina notes TMT is not about the money its part of the general conditioning routine to be subservient and submissive to her at all times because She is a part of our life now...

She's on my mind all the time. I treasure every opportunity to please her.

How is it possible to think about Princess Shelle less than three times a day? Or does thinking about her constantly count as one? However, this is a simple way to express ones gratitude and it came with a sexy captioned image as a surprise...

I'm really glad that TMT is capped at three times; I'd go bankrupt otherwise. Let's be honest, I'm more likely to forget that it's Tuesday than to not think of my Domina for an entire day...
